

JASON BROWN

Jason's philosophy is clear: you don't need Wall Street connections or a million dollars to begin investing—you need knowledge, discipline, and a vision for your future. His mission is to help people everywhere build wealth without sacrificing family, health, or integrity.

Bio:

Jason Brown is a nationally recognized stock market coach, author, and financial thought leader whose story of resilience and reinvention continues to inspire students, professionals, and families alike.

A Detroit native and finance graduate of the Mike Ilitch School of Business at Wayne State University, Jason began his investing journey at just 18 years old. Within a few short years, he grew his trading account to multiple six figures—only to lose it all, a humbling setback that ultimately became the foundation of his disciplined, rules-based investing strategies. Over the past 20 years, Jason has turned those hard-earned lessons into a thriving career as a trader, educator, and media contributor.

He is the founder of The Brown Report and Power Trades University, platforms dedicated to making the stock market accessible and actionable for everyday investors. Jason published his debut book, Five-Year Millionaire, which quickly became an Amazon #1 New Release and Best Seller in the stock market and finance categories. The book chronicles his journey from living in a house with “bars on the windows” in Detroit to building financial freedom through the stock market, while equipping readers with the mindset and strategies to replicate that success.

Jason's insights are regularly sought by top media outlets. He contributes to the Schwab Network and has appeared live from the New York Stock Exchange to break down market moves and share actionable trading ideas. His expertise has also been featured in Business Insider, Forbes, Yahoo! Finance, MarketWatch, and Fox News. In 2025, Jason was honored by GoBankingRates as one of the Top 100 Money Experts, a recognition of his growing influence in financial education.

The Hidden Edge: Transforming Your Disadvantages into your Unfair Advantage

Core Promise

Attendees will learn how to spot, name, and recode their disadvantages, then apply them as a strategic edge at home, at school, in their career and personal lives.

Summary

Most bios start with the highlight reel. “The Hidden Edge” starts with the scratches of Jason Brown, author of Five-Year Millionaire, stock market coach, and Detroit native. In this keynote Jason pulls back the curtain on how early setbacks, bad bets, and living in houses with “bars on the windows” became the motivation for winning in life. This keynote isn’t about luck or talent; it’s about converting constraints into catalysts at school, at home, in the work place and in your personal life. Attendees will hear real, documented moment from going flat broke to standing on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange and the simple systems that turned detours into data, discipline, and decisive action. Attendees leave with a repeatable framework to transform obstacles in their life into leverage—without giving up family, health, or integrity.

What You’ll Learn

- Instagram vs. Reality: how highlight reels create doubt and how to reset your lens for progress.
- The $2,000 lesson: when the “pros” let you down and why you must become the CEO of your life.
- Vision with a deadline: how a dated, specific plan pulls you forward when motivation fades.
- Find another door: how to pivot, stay resourceful, and keep moving toward your vision when one door closes.
